

I appreciate the popularity of the vanity calls and the desire to obtain one. However when a person files for 10 or more individual applications for unique call signs, this is abusing the system. Some restriction on issuing a person applying for more than five call signs.